Pennsylvania online legal resources are not official.
The online session laws, court decisions, and administrative rules publications, even though maintained by the government or companies hired by the government, cannot be considered official. The only available online statutory database is maintained as the personal effort of a lower court justice.

Pennsylvania is not addressing the authentication of online legal resources.
None of the online legal resources investigated here has been authenticated. There is no evidence of any state plan to do so.

Has the state eliminated the print publication of any of these titles in favor of online only since the 2007 report? Pennsylvania has not eliminated any print publication of primary law to date.

Has the state enacted legislation guaranteeing the public's permanent access to state online government information since the 2007 report? No.

Have courts in your state adopted a medium neutral citation system since the 2007 report? No.

Have there been any other significant changes to the 2007 state summary? Thomson West now provides online access to the unofficial Purdon's Pennsylvania Statutes (at <http://government.westlaw.com/linkedslice/default.asp?SP=pac-1000>).
