

Volunteer Form

The success of SCALL is dependent on the voluntary efforts of the members. By joining a committee, you have the opportunity to interact with your colleagues, make a contribution to your professional association and see the results of your efforts.

This is the chance to build on old experiences and contribute your expertise and background. The more people who come forward, the more the work is shared.

Below is the list of committees which cover a wide range of functions and activities. Check your SCALL Directory or website (<http://www.aallnet.org/chapter/scall>) for descriptions of each committee.
