

Mahalo and Aloha

*Western Pacific Chapter of the American Association of Law Libraries
2007 Annual Meeting Program*

“Legal Connections - Hawai'i and the Pacific Rim”

Ala Moana Hotel
October 11-13, 2007
Honolulu, Hawai'i

ALOHA!

WELCOME TO THE 2007 WESTPAC ANNUAL MEETING
LEGAL CONNECTIONS -- HAWAI`I AND THE PACIFIC RIM

The charter meeting of the Western Pacific Chapter of the American Association of Law Libraries was held on October 27, 1967 in Berkeley, California at the Conference of Western Law Schools. This year, WestPac celebrates the 40th anniversary of that charter meeting. We are very excited to be in such a stunning location for this year's meeting. We are pleased that AALL Vice-President James Duggan will be joining us as the AALL representative. Special thanks go to Swee Berkey, Catherine Thomas Bye, Lei Seeger, Ann Koto and Buck Sterling for organizing an extraordinary annual meeting and education program. May you renew old acquaintances, make new connections, learn a thing or two, and enjoy the beauty and aloha of Hawai`i.

2007 WestPac Executive Board

Tami Gierloff, President
Buck Sterling, Vice President/President-Elect
Kristen Ford, Secretary
Cheryl Pritchard, Treasurer
Lisa Mecklenberg Jackson, Immediate Past President

Program At-A-Glance
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 2007
Time:	Program Event	Meeting Place
12:00- 6:30	Registration at Ala Moana Hotel	Outside Carnation Room
3:00-3:15	Board bus to LLMC Tour & Reception	Hotel Lobby
4:00-6:00	Law Library Microform Consortium Facilities Tour & Reception	Windward Comm. College Campus
7:00-9:30	Dinner & Hawaiian music by the "Mānoa Voices"	Carnation Room
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 2007
7:30-8:30	Breakfast Buffet	Ilima Room
8:30-10:00	Chinese, Japanese and Korean Legal Systems and Research	Carnation Room
10:00-10:15	Break	Ilima Room
10:15-11:45	Protection of Indigenous Knowledge, Cultures, and Peoples: Current Issues in Intellectual Property Law	Carnation Room
12:00-1:15	Lunch & Business Meeting	Ilima Room
1:15-2:15	A Historical-Legal Overview: Hawai`i and Native Hawaiians	Carnation Room
2:15-2:30	Break	Ilima Room
2:30-3:30	60 Sites and Gadgets in 60 Minutes	Carnation Room
4:00 - 4:15	Board bus to Lū`au	Hotel Lobby
5:00 - 9:30	Paradise Cove Lū`au	Leeward Coast
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13, 2007
7:30 - 8:30	Breakfast Buffet	Ilima Room
8:30 - 10:00	The Future of the Catalog	Carnation Room
10:00-10:15	Break	Ilima Room
10:15-11:45	Papahānaumokuākea: Unveiling the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands Marine National Monument	Carnation Room
11:45-12:00	Concluding Remarks & "Hawaiian Delights" Prize Drawings	Carnation Room

Special Thanks to the Members of the Local Arrangements and Education Committees

CO-CHAIRS:

- Swee Berkey (Wm. S. Richardson School of Law Library)
- Catherine Thomas Bye (Wm. S. Richardson School of Law Library)

MEMBERS:

- Marlene Cuenco (Hawai`i Supreme Court Law Library)
- Rachel Gushiken (Hawai`i Supreme Court Law Library)
- Ann Koto (Hawai`i Supreme Court Law Library)
- Karen Mau (Legislative Reference Bureau Library)
- Karen Sakata (Honolulu Department of Prosecuting Attorney)
- Mark Skrimstad (Hawai`i Supreme Court Law Library)

PROGRAM COMMITTEE:

- Leinā`ala Seeger (Wm. S. Richardson School of Law Library)

EDUCATION CHAIR:

- Buck Sterling (Chastek Library at Gonzaga University School of Law)

WESTPAC WOULD LIKE TO THANK THE FOLLOWING FOR THEIR GENEROUS SPONSORSHIP AND DONATIONS:

Aloha Maps Magazine
Bess Press
Big Island Candies
Blackwell Book Services
Case Lombardi & Pettit, A Law Corporation
Hawai`i Visitors & Convention Bureau
Island Princess
Judge Samuel P. King (U.S. District Court for the District of Hawai`i)

LexisNexis
Midwest Library Service
Randall W. Roth (Professor of Law, Wm. S. Richardson School of Law)

The HF Group
The Honolulu Advertiser
Thomson/West
University of Hawai`i Press
William S. Richardson School of Law
Eric Yamamoto (Professor of Law, Wm. S. Richardson School of Law)

Exhibitors

CCH, a Wolters Kluwer Business
William S. Hein & Co.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM DETAILS

FRIDAY OCTOBER 12, 2007

Program 1: 8:30-10:00 a.m.

90 minutes

Chinese, Japanese and Korean Legal Systems and Research

China, Japan and Korea, with their complex legal systems and character-based languages, present challenges for those needing to answer law-related questions. Moreover, recent innovations in internet technologies have made Chinese, Japanese, and Korean (CJK) legal materials more readily accessible. In this program, Chinese law expert Professor Alison Conner will discuss the history and development of the Chinese legal system. In addition, law librarians Bill McCloy and Rob Britt will identify useful English-language internet resources for researching CJK legal issues. This program will be invaluable to librarians and researchers who need to do legal research in East Asian countries.

Coordinator and Moderator:

- Kara Phillips, Associate Director and Collection Development Librarian, Seattle University School of Law Library

Speakers:

- Professor Alison W. Conner, Director of International Programs, William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa
- Bill McCloy, Assistant Librarian for East Asian Law, University of Washington Marian Gould Gallagher Law Library
- Rob Britt, Japanese Legal Materials Specialist, University of Washington Marian Gould Gallagher Law Library

NOTES

NOTES

Program 2: 10:15-11:45 a.m.

90 minutes

Protection of Indigenous Knowledge, Cultures, and Peoples: Current Issues in Intellectual Property Law

This program focuses on the cultural and intellectual property rights of indigenous peoples, with particular emphasis on issues in the Pacific region, especially those affecting Native Hawaiians. Judge Heen will address issues regarding bioprospecting in the Hawaiian Islands. Ms Kalama will describe how she became an “instant specialist” in copyright issues through her work on the Kim Taylor Reece case, currently proceeding through Hawai‘i’s federal court.

<<http://starbulletin.com/2006/11/03/news/story04.html>, <http://starbulletin.com/2006/12/23/news/story07.html>>. Ms Meyer will detail her work in establishing a native Hawaiian trademark scheme, and illustrate current educational efforts with an informative film.

Coordinator and Moderator:

- Professor Melody K. Mackenzie, Director, Center for Excellence in Native Hawaiian Law, William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa

Speakers:

- Judge Walter M. Heen (ret.), Trustee, Office of Hawaiian Affairs
- Camille Kalama, Esq., Staff Attorney, Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation
- Maile Meyer, Founder and Managing Partner, Native Books/Nā Mea Hawai‘i

Program 3: 1:15-2:15 p.m.60 minutes*A Historical-Legal Overview: Hawai'i and Native Hawaiians

Originally launched in August, 2007 as part of the William S. Richardson School of Law's fall orientation for new faculty and students, Professor MacKenzie's concise presentation transports us through centuries of Hawaiian history, from pre-contact to the present time. Attendees will gain a historical context for exploring and understanding Hawaiian legal issues.

Coordinator and Speaker:

- Professor Melody K. MacKenzie, Director, Center for Excellence in Native Hawaiian Law, William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa

Program 4: 2:30-3:30 p.m.60 minutes*60 Sites and Gadgets in 60 Minutes

This highly acclaimed Special Libraries Association (SLA) program comes to WestPac. Participants will go on a whirlwind tour, exploring 60 fun and educational sites and gadgets. From the best to the most interesting, the presenter will spend a minute explaining each site before passing the screen to the other presenter. By the end of the hour, participants will have been introduced to 60 sites and gadgets, ranging from the best legal information resources and tools to the most amusing ones. For the sheer pleasure of laughter and enjoyment, don't miss this session!

Coordinator and Speaker:

- Jenny Kanji, Senior Librarian Relations Consultant, LexisNexis

she was involved in numerous terrestrial and marine planning and policy initiatives. She has served on the boards of many conservation projects and is a well-recognized leader in the protection and perpetuation of Hawai'i's natural and cultural resources. Program 6 and environmental justice for native Hawaiians. She co-founded 'Īlio'ulaokalani, a coalition of traditional practitioners committed to protecting their Hawaiian customs and traditions. She is the po'o (president) and inspirational leader of this organization. She is also the co-founder and president of KAHEA: The Hawaiian Environmental Alliance, a coalition of Hawaiian and environmental organizations committed to protecting the natural and cultural environment of Hawai'i. She is also the co-founder and president of Papa Laua'e O Makana on Kaua'i Island and co-founder and Executive Director for the PA'I Foundation on O'ahu Island. Program 6

Robert Truman is the Assistant Director for Electronic Information Services at the Paul L. Boley Law Library, Lewis & Clark Law School. He received his law degree from Northwestern School of Law, and his M.L.S. from Emporia State College. Rob has taught Advanced Legal Research since 1999, and practiced law prior to his affiliation with Boley Law Library. Program 4

T. 'Aulani Wilhelm has been involved in conservation and management issues in Hawai'i for the past twelve years. Ms Wilhelm is currently Superintendent for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) Papahānaumokuākea Marine National Monument, the largest single conservation area under the United States flag and the world's largest protected marine area. The Monument is co-managed by NOAA, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the State of Hawai'i. Prior to this, she served as the Acting Superintendent, and previously served as the Acting Reserve Coordinator of the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands Coral Reef Ecosystem Reserve, providing continuity of management and operations for the project since 2000.

Preceding her work at NOAA, Ms Wilhelm served for six years as the special assistant to the director and public information officer at the Hawai'i Department of Land and Natural Resources, where

Speaker:

- Robert Truman, Assistant Director, Electronic Information Services, Paul L. Boley Law Library, Lewis & Clark Law School

Saturday October 13, 2007

Program 5: 8:30-10:00 a.m.

90 minutes

The Future of the Catalog

The panelists, a professor of Library and Information Science, a reference librarian, and a cataloger, will draw on their various perspectives and areas of expertise to discuss new and desired features of library catalogs. They will examine both the display of search results as well as how database content and underlying metadata affect retrieval of results. The presentation will include examples of how traditional library system vendors are trying to meet the needs of today's users, as well as the features available in more innovative catalogs, such as North Carolina State University's Endeca-based catalog and Plymouth State University's Scriblio-based catalog. Specific topics the panelists will discuss include: faceted browsing of results; "mashed-in" information; federated searching and connections to external resources beyond the OPAC; problems with relevance searching; multi-faceted searching; the effects of Google Books and WorldCat.org on the catalog; social tagging vs. controlled vocabularies; the effect of FRBR (Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records) on search results and displays; and the current issues and options surrounding catalog software.

Coordinator and Moderator:

- Cheryl Pritchard, Head of Bibliographic and Collection Management, Chastek Law Library, Gonzaga University School of Law

Speakers:

- Thomas R. Boone, Reference Librarian for Electronic Services, Lillian Goldman Law Library, Yale University Law School
- Professor Péter Jacsó, School of Library and Information Science, University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa
- Karen Selden, Catalog Librarian, William A. Wise Law Library, University of Colorado School of Law

Program 6: 10:15-11:45 a.m.90 minutes*Papahānaumokuākea: Unveiling the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands Marine National Monument

Arguably the “world’s largest” marine protected area (MPA), this 139,793 square mile marine stretch of coral islands, seamounts, banks, and shoals extends westward from the main Hawaiian Islands. Designated a marine national monument in June 2006 by President Bush, the site is co-managed by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the State of Hawai‘i. The area has been the subject of prior presidential interest. In 1909, some of the area’s islands were designated bird sanctuaries by President Theodore Roosevelt. In 2000, President Bill Clinton designated a coral reef ecosystem reserve over approximately 94% of the current area.

Leading Hawaiian activist and cultural expert Vicky Holt Takamine will address the significance of Papahānaumokuākea to the Native Hawaiian community and culture, both historically and

D. Kapua Sproat, a 1998 alumna, is Visiting Assistant Professor of Law, William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, splitting her time between the Center for Excellence in Native Hawaiian Law (CENHL) and the Environmental Law Program. Kapua remains of counsel with the environmental legal group Earthjustice. Recently named by Hawai‘i Business Magazine as one of the “25 People for the Next 25 Years – Hawai‘i’s Bright People and Bright Future,” Kapua grew up in an active, community-minded family with strong Hawaiian roots on Kaua‘i’s North Shore and “often banded with other local families to fight the rapid, poorly planned development occurring in their backyards.” Sproat decided she wanted to be a lawyer in elementary school after realizing that “their passion and commitment, no matter how strong, was no match for the tough legal eagles they encountered in court. It is her hope that, through teaching, she might inspire the next generation of environmental and cultural stewards.” Program 6

Vicky Holt Takamine is the founder and kumu hula (master teacher) of Pua Ali‘i ‘Ilima, a school of traditional Hawaiian dance. She graduated through the ‘uniki (graduation) rituals of hula from Maiki Aiu Lake. Vicky received her BA and MA in Dance Ethnology from the University of Hawai‘i. She is a lecturer at UH Mānoa and Leeward Community College. She has served as the Hawaiian consultant and choreographer for numerous Hawaiian Style Theatre productions.

Vicky is highly respected throughout the Hawaiian community for her cultural expertise and advocacy work on behalf of Hawaiians, their cultural traditions, and the protection and preservation of the cultural and natural resources of Hawai‘i. In 1997, Vicky coordinated a massive demonstration of Hawaiian cultural practitioners to oppose legislation that would severely restrict native Hawaiian cultural practices. Since then, she has coordinated demonstrations, rallies and marches calling for social, economic

Mandarin Training Center (1992-93) and the Stanford Center (1996-97) in Taipei, Taiwan. Most recently, she was a visiting scholar at Shanghai Jiaotong University (SJTU) School of Law where she assisted in developing the SJTU Law Library's English-language legal collection in support of their new Center on Chinese American Joint Legal Studies. Kara holds a B.A. magna cum laude; J.D. with Honors; M.L.S.; and M.A.I.S. in China Studies from the University of Washington. Program 1

Cheryl Pritchard has been at Chastek Library at Gonzaga University School of Law for 18 years, but recently got her MLS in 2003 from UIUC. She is currently the Head of Technical Services, which includes cataloging, serials, government documents, and acquisitions. Cheryl has been WestPac treasurer since 2006. Program 5

Karen Selden earned her MLS from Simmons College in 1995, and has served as the Catalog Librarian at the University of Colorado Law School's William A. Wise Law Library since 1998. She is an active member of the Colorado Association of Law Libraries, having served as Secretary, Member at Large, and currently as President. Her American Association of Law Libraries (AALL) activities include appointments to serve on the Technical Services Law Librarian editorial board (2002-2004); on the Cataloging and Intranet Access to Electronic Resources Special Committee (2002-2004); and as AALL's MARBI representative (2004-2005). Since 1999, Ms Selden has made presentations to regional and national law library audiences on various aspects of cataloging electronic resources, and is the author or co-author of several articles in Law Library Journal and Cataloging & Classification Quarterly that address these issues. Her article, "The Catalog vs. the Homepage? Best Practices in Connecting to Online Resources," co-authored by Georgia Briscoe and Cheryl Rae Nyberg, was named the 2004 Law Library Journal Article of the Year. Program 5

currently. Ms Wilhelm will provide background on long-standing governmental efforts to achieve protection for the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands, highlight environmental concerns, and address co-management challenges. Ms Gross will discuss issues detailed in her second-year seminar paper, "Protecting Ecosystems as Artifacts: Can the Antiquities Act Protect All of the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands?," expanding upon environmental and co-management themes.

Coordinator and Moderator:

- D. Kapua Sproat, Acting Assistant Professor of Law, William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa

Speakers:

- Aarin F. Gross, 3L (J.D., expected May 2008), William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa
- Vicky Holt Takamine, Kumu Hula, Hālau Pua Ali'i Ilima
- T. 'Aulani Wilhelm, Superintendent, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Papahānaumokuākea/Northwestern Hawaiian Islands Marine National Monument

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

Thomas Boone is the Reference Librarian for Electronic Services at Yale Law School. Prior to moving to Yale, Tom spent three years as a librarian at UNLV. He received his J.D. from the University of Louisville in 2001 and his M.L.S. from Indiana University in 2004. Prior to entering library school, Tom was a public defender in Louisville, Kentucky. Tom has spoken on technology issues at several conferences, including CALI, the AALS Clinical Workshop, and last year's WestPac meeting in Las Vegas. Program 5

Rob Britt has worked with Japanese legal materials for 20 years at the Marian Gould Gallagher Law Library (MGGLL) at the University of Washington. He combines an interest in Japanese language and culture with a desire to facilitate access to knowledge about the Japanese legal system. During his years at MGGLL, the introduction of various electronic aids to Japanese legal research has blossomed, and Rob has worked hard to take advantage of these new tools. His background includes a degree in English literature from Bowling Green State University and teaching English as a Second Language in Nagoya, Japan for four years, where he began studying the Japanese language. After returning to the United States in 1982, he graduated from Southern Illinois University with an MA in ESL, taught ESL for two years at Linfield College in Oregon, and in 1987 graduated from the MA in International Studies program in the Jackson School at the University of Washington. In 1997, he attended a 3-week training program for overseas Japanese librarians sponsored by the NCC (North American Coordinating Committee for Japanese Library Resources), the International House of Japan and the National Diet Library in Tokyo. He has served on many committees of CEAL (the Council on East Asian Libraries of the Association for Asian Studies), and the NCC. Currently, he serves on the CEAL Library recent trip to Asia was in October 2005 when he took part in a week-long workshop held in Seoul and Andong, Korea. The Workshop for Overseas Korean Studies Librarians was conducted in Korean, and Bill was the only participant not born and raised in Korea. Bill is the Past-President of the Council on East Asian Libraries (CEAL) as well as Past-Chair of the Foreign, Comparative and International Law Special Interest Section (FCIL SIS) of the American Association of Law Libraries. Program 1

Maile Meyer is the founder and managing partner of Native Books/Nā Mea Hawai'i, a retail cooperative featuring books, arts, crafts, music, food and clothing from a wide spectrum of local and Native Hawaiian authors, artists and artisans. Maile followed her B.A. in Design from Stanford with a Master's degree in Business Administration, Marketing and Arts Management from UCLA's Anderson School of Management and a career in advertising. Among her significant community service, Maile is a member of the State Commission on the Status of Women, the Native Hawaiian Hospitality Association, Queen Lili'uokalani Children's Center Advisory Association, Hawai'i Book Publishers Association, Mālama Hawai'i, the Daughters of Hawai'i, and the Hale Kū'ai Cooperative, of which she is a Board Member. Maile co-coordinated the Native Hawaiian Cultural Trademark Study. The Study, undertaken by the Hale Kū'ai Cooperative and the PA'I Foundation to promote, protect and perpetuate Native Hawaiian arts, was completed in 2006. Program 2

Kara Phillips is the Collection Development Librarian/Associate Director of Seattle University Law Library. Prior to joining Seattle University Law Library in 1997, she worked as a librarian for the Washington State Attorney General's Office, Washington State Department of Retirement Systems, Gallagher Law Library East Asian Law Department and Lane Powell Spears Lubersky. Recipient of a ROC Department of Education Scholarship and a Blakemore Fellowship, she studied Mandarin Chinese at the National Indian Law Library of the Native American Rights Fund. A 1976 graduate of the William S. Richardson School of Law, Professor MacKenzie clerked for then Hawai'i Supreme Court Chief Justice William S. Richardson from 1976-80. From 1980-92, she served as Staff Attorney, Executive Director, and Senior Staff Attorney at the Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation; from 1992-99, as Executive Director of the Hawaiian Claims Office for the State of Hawai'i; and from 2000-04, as an attorney in private practice. Professor MacKenzie teaches Native Hawaiian Rights, the Native Hawaiian Rights Clinic, and Advanced Legal Studies in Native Hawaiian Law. She served as editor of the 1991 edition of the Native Hawaiian Rights Handbook, and currently, is shepherding completion of the second, revised edition of the Handbook. Professor MacKenzie also contributed a section on Native Hawaiians to the 2005 edition of Felix S. Cohen's Handbook of Federal Indian Law. She is Vice-President/President-Elect of the Native Hawaiian Bar Association. She has studied hula for many years and is a graduate of Mapuana de Silva, kumu hula (master teacher) of Hālau Mohala 'Ilima. Programs 2, 3

Bill McCloy is the Assistant Librarian for East Asian Law at the Gallagher Law Library of the University of Washington. His work includes responsibility for building the major collections on the law of China and South Korea as well as lesser collections on the law of Taiwan, Hong Kong, Macau, and North Korea. He also works with students and faculty on their research projects, makes classroom presentations on East Asian Legal Research, and maintains several webpages on legal research for the countries he is responsible for. Bill has 23 years experience working in law libraries and altogether 35 years experience as a librarian. He spent a year in Taiwan when he was in high school and later spent two years in Korea as a Peace Corps Volunteer.

Bill's degrees include a B.A. in Chinese language from the University of Hawai'i, an M.A. in linguistics and an M.L.S., both from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. His most Technology committee and the NCC Digital Resources Committee. Rob lives in northeast Seattle, and enjoys relaxing at home with his wife and their beloved dog. Program 1

Alison W. Conner is Professor of Law and Director of International Programs at the University of Hawai'i William S. Richardson School of Law, where she has taught since 1995. She has lived and worked in Hong Kong, Taiwan, China and Singapore and specializes in comparative law, Chinese business law, and Chinese legal history. Dr. Conner has received teaching honors including the University of Hawai'i Chancellor's Citation for Meritorious Teaching (2002) and the William S. Richardson School of Law Outstanding Law Professor of the Year (2001). In 2004 she was a Fulbright Distinguished Lecturer at China's Tsinghua University School of Law, where she taught courses in comparative and United States law. She also has been a visiting faculty member at the University of Connecticut, the Duke University-University of Hong Kong Asia-America Institute in Transnational Law, and La Trobe University in Melbourne. She received her B.A. from the University of Florida, her J.D. from Harvard Law School, and her M.A. and Ph.D. in Chinese and Southeast Asian history from Cornell University.

Professor Conner's recent articles include "Chinese Lawyers on the Silver Screen," (Palgrave 2007), "History of Chinese Law: The Republic 1911-49," "Confession and Acceptance of Sentence in Chinese Law," and "Lawyers in Chinese Law" (Encyclopedia of Legal History, Oxford University Press 2008); "The Comparative Law School of China" (Understanding China's Legal System, New York University Press, 2003); "How I Got the Story (and Why It Took So Long): Legal Research in China," 2 Washington University Global Studies Law Review (2003) 193; and "Chinese Confessions and the Use of Torture" (La Torture Judiciaire: Approches historiques et juridiques, Centre d'Histoire Judiciaire, Universite Montpellier, 2002). Program 1

Aarin F. Gross is a third-year law student at the William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa, who authored "Protecting Ecosystems as Artifacts: Can the Antiquities Act Protect All of the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands?" in her second-year seminar course. Among her many involvements, Ms Gross currently serves as co-editor of the University of Hawai'i Law Review. Program 6

Walter Meheula Heen is the elected O'ahu representative on the Board of Trustees of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs (OHA). Judge Heen chairs OHA's eleven-member Temporary Commission on Bioprospecting, authorized by 2006 state legislation. A 1955 graduate of Georgetown Law Center, trustee and former Judge Heen has held significant judicial, legislative and municipal offices. His state judicial experience includes service on the benches of the Honolulu District Court (1972-74), the First Circuit (1974-78), and the Intermediate Court of Appeals (1982-94). In 1981, he also served with the United States District Court.

Judge Heen served as a territorial and state representative (1958-64), senator (1966-68), and on the Honolulu City Council (1969-72; chair, 1969-70). Program 2

Péter Jacsó is a Professor in the Library and Information Science Program, Department of Computer and Information Sciences, at the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa. A prolific and widely-published author and presenter in the library and information science world, Dr. Jacsó's current columns in professional journals include GaleNet's "Peter's Digital Reference Shelf," Online's "Databases: Peter's Picks and Pans," and Online Information Review's "Savvy Searching." Program 5

Camille Kalama, a 2005 alumna of the William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa, is a staff attorney with the Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation. She represents the defendant in the Reece v. Island Treasures case, in which local photographer Kim Taylor Reece claims that a Hawaiian artist infringed on his copyright of a photo of a dancer in a traditional hula position. Ms Kalama will be sharing her work on the case, including the court's recent decision on Reece's motion for preliminary injunction Program 2

Jenny Kanji is the Senior Lead for the LexisNexis Librarian Relations Group serving the librarian community in Alaska, California, and Hawai'i. Prior to joining the Librarian Relations Group, Jenny worked in libraries in Africa, UK and Canada. Active in national, regional and local professional library organizations, Jenny has served on various committees, such as chairing the American Association of Law Libraries (AALL) Scholarship Committee and the Nominations Committee of AALL's Private Law Libraries Special Interest Section (PLL-SIS).

Jenny has been a featured speaker at various regional and national library association conferences, including Practising Law Institute library workshops, in which she has addressed topics such as "Managing the Virtual Library," "Content, Collaboration & Cost: Negotiating License Agreements for Intranets & Portals," "Outsourcing the Library," and "Teaming up with the Marketing Department." She is best known for her popular program "60 Sites in 60 Minutes," which has been featured at several Special Libraries Association (SLA) annual conferences. Program 4

Melody Kapilialoha MacKenzie is Assistant Professor of Law and Director, Center for Excellence in Native Hawaiian Law at the William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa. Prior to attending law school, she was hired as the first librarian to assist attorneys in building a research collection at the