

views from you

Do You Have a Captivating View from Your Law Library?

Many law libraries have interesting or dramatic views of cityscapes, mountain ranges, or beautiful vistas. If your law library has a great view, this is your chance to share it with AALL.

In order to be publishable, pictures must be of relatively high quality. While we can work with a print, digital submissions are better. Digital submissions must be high-resolution (300 dpi). When scanning photos, set the scanner at high-resolution/print quality/300 dpi. When taking pictures with a digital camera, make sure that the camera is set to take the largest photo possible.

Depending on the number of submissions received, we will publish one or two photos in each issue of Spectrum and post them on AALLNET at www.aallnet.org/view/view\_month.asp. Photos will be published on a first-come, first-served basis. Publication of a submitted photo is not guaranteed. If you have questions, or to submit photos, please contact AALL Director of Publications Julia O'Donnell at jodonnell@aall.org.

View from the Smith, Anderson, Blount, Dorsett, Mitchell & Jernigan LLP library, located on the 25th floor of the Wachovia Capitol Center Building in Raleigh, North Carolina. The library faces south towards the Progress Energy Center for the Performing Arts. Submitted by Constance M. Matzen, director of research resources.

View of St. Paul's Chapel from the New York County Lawyers' Association in New York City. St. Paul's was completed in 1766 and is Manhattan's oldest public building in continuous use. It is directly across the street from where the World Trade Center stood. Miraculously, the chapel's trees shielded it from damage on 9/11, and not a single pane of glass was broken throughout the church. Photo by Charles Breiterman, systems and electronic research coordinator.