

Washington Brief

More photos from the AALL National Summit on Authentic Legal Information in the Digital Age

*The following photos are available on AALLNET only. To view the published article, please see Washington Brief.

Photos courtesy Timothy Coggins, Claire Germain, and Sally Holterhoff.

During his opening remarks, Bob Berring, Walter Perry Johnson Professor of Law at the University of California-Berkeley, traces the history of judicial reports from the early print versions to today's print and electronic versions provided by the commercial sector. AALL President Sally Holterhoff looks on.

Edward W. Jessen, reporter of decisions of California, and Barbara Golden, state law librarian for the Minnesota State Law Library.

Washington Brief

From left: John Mathias, senior court management consultant for the National Center for State Courts Denver office; AALL Vice President Ann Fessenden; and the Honorable Paul H. Anderson, of the Minnesota Supreme Court, participate in working group sessions.

The Honorable Herbert B. Dixon, Jr., of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia, and the Honorable Leslie B. Miller, of the Pima County Superior Court of Arizona.

Washington Brief

AALL welcomed 50 delegates to its National Summit on Authentic Legal Information in the Digital Age, held in the Chicago area April 20-21.

From left: Jeffrey Hague, registrar of regulations of Delaware; AALL President Sally Holterhoff; and the Honorable Leslie B. Miller, of the Pima County Superior Court of Arizona, during lunch.

Washington Brief

From left: Ralph Preston, reporter of decisions for the State of Ohio and co-chair of the Association of Reporters of Judicial Decisions Electronic Publishing Committee, and Richard Matthews, 2005-2006 chair of AALL's Access to Electronic Legal Information Committee and editor-in-chief of AALL's State-By-State Report on Authentication of Online Legal Resources.

From left: the Honorable Ming W. Chin, of the California Supreme Court; Edward W. Jessen, reporter of decisions of California; the Honorable Herbert B. Dixon, Jr., of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia; and AALL Past President Claire Germain.